

SOCIETIES

The society responds to many requests from an increasing range of organisations. We will provide presentations on a variety of astronomical subjects varying from a lecture to workshops. Lectures are usually given by individual members with a specific interest in the subject, while workshops draw on the experience of a wider range of members.

